“CHAPTER VI-A

Place of trial and adjustment of jurisdiction of ordinary Courts.

36B Definition.—For the purposes of this Chapter, “Magistrate” means a Magistrate other than the Commandant or an Assistant Commandant on whom the powers of a Magistrate have been conferred under sub-section (2) of section 16

36C. Place of trial.—Notwithstanding the provisions of Chapter XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (5 of 1898), the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant may try an offence in any place whatever with due regard to the convenience of parties.

36D. Procedure in cases where the accused objects to trial.—Notwithstanding the provisions of section 191 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 (5 of 1898), when the Commandant or an Assistant Commandant takes cognizance of an offence, the accused shall, before any evidence is taken, be informed that he is entitled to have the case tried by another Court, and if the accused, or any of the accused if there be more than one, objects to being tried by the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant, as the case may be, the case shall, instead of being tried by the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant, be committed to the Court of Sessions.

36F. Magistrate not to try persons subject to the Act.—Where a person subject to the Act is brought before a Magistrate and is charged with an offence referred to in the main paragraph of sub-section (2) of section 16 for which he is liable to be tried, such Magistrate shall not proceed to inquire into or try the offence unless—

(a) he is of opinion, for reasons to be recorded, that he should so proceed without being moved thereto by the Commandant; or

(b) he is moved thereto by the Commandant.

36F. Magistrate to give notice.—Before proceeding under clause (a) of rule 36E, the Magistrate shall give written notice to the Commandant and until the expiry of a period of twenty-one days from the date of the service of such notice he shall not—

(b) frame in writing a charge against the accused under section 251A or section 254 of the said Code; or

(c) make an order committing the accused for trial by the High Court or the Court of Sessions under section 207A or section 213 of the said Code; or

(d) transfer the case for inquiry or trial under section 192 of the said Code.

36G. Magistrate to stay proceedings.—(1) Where in respect of an inquiry or trial falling under clause (a) or clause (b) of rule 36E the Commandant gives notice to the Magistrate that in his opinion, the accused should be tried by the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant or that the case against the accused should be inquired into by the Commandant with a view to commit him for trial by the Court of Sessions or the High Court, such Magistrate shall stay the proceedings before him and refer the matter to the Central Government for its decision.

(2) If on receipt of such reference the Central Government is satisfied that the case against the accused should be tried or inquired into by the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant, as the case may be, it shall direct the Magistrate to deliver the accused to the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant and the Magistrate shall accordingly deliver the accused to such Commandant or Assistant Commandant.

36H. Magistrate to be informed of the trial of the accused.—(1) When an accused person has been delivered by the Magistrate under sub-rule (2) of rule 36G, the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant, as the case may be, shall, as soon as may be, inform the Magistrate whether the accused has been tried by him or any other effectual proceedings have been taken or ordered to be taken against the accused or not.

(2) When the Magistrate has been informed under sub-rule (1) that the accused has not been tried or other effectual proceedings have not been taken or ordered to be taken against him the Magistrate shall report the circumstances to the State Government which may in consultation with the Central Government take appropriate steps to ensure that the accused person is dealt with in accordance with law.

36I. person to a Magistrate to be named in the said notice for being proceeded against according to law, or to stay the proceedings, if any, against such person before the Commandant or the Assistant Commandant, until the orders of the Central Government have been obtained and to make a reference to the Central Government for determining the Court before which proceedings should be instituted or continued and upon such reference the Central Government may, if it so thinks fit, direct that the proceedings be transferred to a competent Magistrate.

30J. Commandant to deliver the accused to the Magistrate.—Where a person subject to the Act has committed an offence which in the opinion of the Commandant is to be tried by a Magistrate in accordance with the law in force, or, where the Central Government has on a reference made to it under rule 36I decided that proceedings against such person should be instituted before a Magistrate, the Commandant shall, after giving written notice to the Magistrate concerned, deliver such person under proper escort to that Magistrate."
